50min. drive from Sasebo Sta. to Tabira Church

It's a symbol of this island with the history of the Hidden Christians. It was completed by all the believers in 1902, after 5 years construction, under the direction of Father Marmand. Its scale and high degree of perfection as church made with bricks in Meiji period is magnificent - the floor covered with bricks and tiles made in Arita, and stained glass made in France. It is said to have a lot of influence on the subsequent churches.

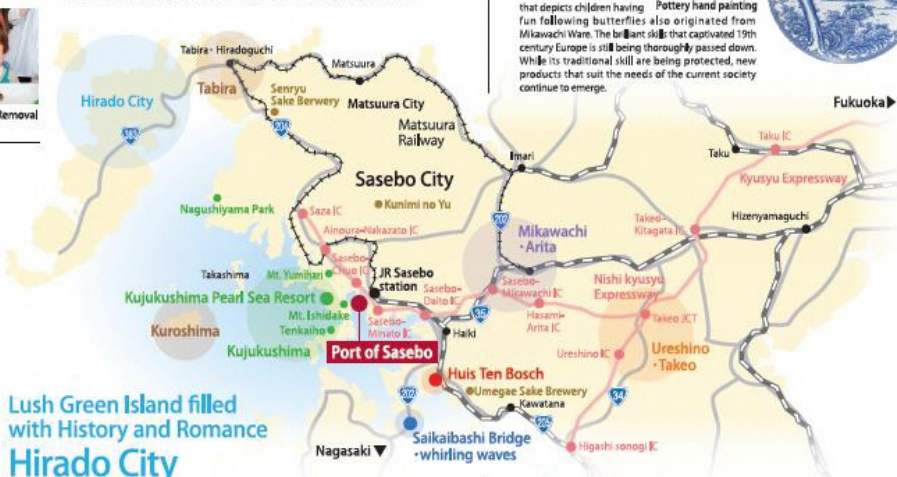

Kuroshima Church

Tabira Church

It's a majestic Romanesque church with red bricks, completed by the believers after 3 years of construction from 1915, under the instruction of Youkei Tetsuawa, Master Carpenter of church. It's said to be one of his representative works.

Saikai National Park, including Kujukushima, was designated in 1955 as Japan's eighteenth national park. 208 islands mostly unpopulated, are said to become the island chain the most highly concentrated in Japan. With mild seasons, the magnificence of these green islands and blue seas can be enjoyed year-round.

Mikawachi Ware

Arita Pottery Market

"Mikawachi Ware" (used to be referred to Hirado Pottery) that, developed as an official kiln of the Hirado Domain is the fruit of the fine and delicate techniques of artisans. The "Karakoe" that depicts children having fun following butterflies also originated from Mikawachi Ware. The brilliant skill that captivated 19th century Europe is still being thoroughly passed down. While its traditional skill are being protected, new products that suit the needs of the current society continue to emerge.
